Why choose this course?
This program will provide you with a specialised education in your chosen area of research.

Overview
Students who complete this program with the School of Advertising, Marketing and Public Relations gain a competitive edge in seeking employment in the business world. If you are considering an academic career, you will also have the opportunity to move directly to the PhD research program.

The emphasis is on depth of knowledge and small class teaching. In addition, students are expected to attend and actively participate in the monthly seminar series run by the School.

You will gain experience and training in analytical and research skills and build an advanced understanding of the use of survey research.

During your study you develop detailed understanding of the theoretical contexts in which qualitative research has developed and the techniques that define its use.

You then apply your learning to a selected research problem and gain a more sophisticated understanding of the theory underpinning your research.

You will receive individual supervision by a highly qualified and experienced academic who will guide you through your advanced study. The School has a growing national reputation of excellence in its undergraduate and postgraduate programs.

Meeting minimum entry requirements does not guarantee entry into this course. Admission to this program will depend on the availability of supervision, infrastructure and other required resources.

Course design
Students must complete four coursework units (48 credit points) and a dissertation (48 credit points), as per the programs of study described under the individual majors.

Unit prerequisite requirements are deemed to have been satisfied upon admission to this course. Where option (elective) units may be undertaken, students should check prerequisite requirements in the unit synopsis section of the QUT Handbook and obtain approval from the Subject Area Coordinator prior to enrolment.

Mid-year entry students
Mid-year entry students should contact the Honours Discipline Coordinator for enrolment advice and course progression details. Mid-year entry to any major cannot be guaranteed and is subject to supervisor and unit availability.

Further information
For further information on this course contact the Honours Discipline Coordinator Associate Professor Rebekah Russell-Bennett on 3138 2894 or rebekah.bennett@qut.edu.au

The Honours Discipline Coordinator is responsible for the administration of the course, including admissions, scholarships and determining the result for the year as a whole. If you have any questions about the course or any comments, the Honours Discipline Coordinator should be your first point of contact.

UNIT SYNOPSES

AMN404 READINGS IN INTEGRATED MARKETING COMMUNICATION

The unit provides participants with the opportunity to make a detailed exploration of the literature on a particular topic or problem in the area of Integrated Marketing Communication under the direction of a supervisor. The readings integrate and consolidate theory and research related to IMC and from other studies undertaken in the course. Students undertake a formal and systematic review of literature in a particular problem area of IMC related to their interests, project or thesis. Students may also explore work covered in other specialisations.
