This unit is designed to provide overseas and Australian students with an understanding of Australian culture and values. It offers insights and understandings about issues that divide Australians as well as events and circumstances that unite the nation.

Equivalents: HHB106, HHB108  Credit points: 12

Campus: Gardens Point  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-1 and 2010 SEM-2

CLB102 AUSTRALIAN HISTORICAL STUDIES
There are now competing ideologies and contexts shaping, dominating and influencing the way we think historically about Australia. This unit presents a past in Australia that is constructed, invented, contested and open to interpretation.

Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-2

CLB103 INTERPRETING THE PAST
For the purposes of this unit, 'history' will be taken to mean a set of practices developed by professional historians to produce knowledge about the past. The study of these practices promotes understandings of how historians set about their work, the rules that govern their methods, the reliability of historical knowledge and the value of history socially and culturally.

CLB107 THE CLASSICAL WORLD
The aim of this unit is to endeavour to explain/understand particular societies and their transition in the Classical World, by focusing attention on selected periods, aspects and individuals pertaining to ancient Greece and Rome.

Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-2

CLB108 NATIONS AND NATIONALISM IN MODERN EUROPE
This unit will develop an understanding of matters pertinent to the evolution of nationalism in Europe in the modern era. This will include the influence of social movements and cultural and economic issues.

Equivalents: HHB260  Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-1

CLB109 WORLD REGIONS
This unit offers an introductory geographical overview of global regions. This is an excellent basis from which to develop an understanding of complex interrelationships between regions and nations. The integrated knowledge gained is of current and practical value to professionals in many fields requiring a knowledge of international affairs including teachers, planners, journalists, business managers and travellers and people in general.

Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-1
CLB110 ENVIRONMENT AND SOCIETY
People and nature interact to create distinctive and dynamic places and landscapes. Applied geography, with its integrating perspective and skills-base, helps us to understand this. The discipline hence addresses some of our most pressing social and environmental problems. Geography objective views human activities, natural systems and their inter-relationships in terms of consequent spatial patterns and impacts on landscapes, regions and places.
Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-2

CLB111 ENVIRONMENTAL HAZARDS
This unit takes a geographical perspective to investigate the characteristics and distribution of environmental hazards, patterns of risk and vulnerability, and how people perceive, manage and adjust to hazardous environments.
Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-2

CLB112 SOUTH EAST ASIA IN FOCUS
Australia’s interaction with Southeast Asia, including our most populous nearest neighbour, Indonesia, continues to increase in significance. This unit examines aspects of Southeast Asian geography, environment, society and culture, in a contemporary framework.
Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-1

CLB113 AUSTRALIAN GEOGRAPHICAL STUDIES
Australia faces challenging problems and changes in relation to its changing population, socio-economic development and environmental sustainability. Many of these problems, relating to land-use and settlement patterns, migration trends, resource and hazard distribution, regional socio-economic structure, remoteness and accessibility etc. have a geographical basis. The aim is to describe and analyse, Australia’s natural and social landscapes, their interaction, and the changes occurring in them from a geographical perspective.
Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-1

CLB114 GEOGRAPHY IN THE FIELD
The unit builds upon the geography program to develop advanced understanding of social science research approaches and information capture/analysis. This provides a foundation in research and project design, relevant to a wide range of professions. You will develop skills in the preparation of project grant applications and in presenting a research plan orally.

CLB403 GENDER AND SEXUALITY ISSUES FOR TEACHERS
This unit addresses the following topics: gender and sexualities in cultural and school contexts; historical overview of gender relations; theoretical frameworks for gender and current debates in Australia about gender and equity; femininity and masculinity as social constructs; sexuality and the body; violence and gender; debates about boys' behaviour and performance in Australian schools.
Credit points: 12  Contact hours: 3 per week  Campus: Internet, Kelvin Grove and External  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-2

EDB038 INDIGENOUS AUSTRALIAN CULTURE STUDIES
This unit encourages an appreciation of the two distinct indigenous cultures of Australia and how external forces to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures caused social, economic and political changes. It looks at traditional family life and organisation.
Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-1

EDB039 INDIGENOUS POLITICS AND POLITICAL CULTURE
This unit examines issues and influences underlying the world of indigenous politics: political representation; land rights; health; education; community development; criminal justice; culture and heritage. This unit has an Australian focus with New Zealand and North American comparisons.
Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-2

EDB040 INDIGENOUS KNOWLEDGE: RESEARCH ETHICS AND PROTOCOLS
This unit provides students with a critical examination of the major ethical and moral issues arising from the designing and conducting of research 'on/in' Australian Indigenous people/communities or issues. The unit examines the calls by Indigenous researchers for the decolonising of research methods - a process which critically examines the historical and philosophical bases of Western research and the frustrations of Indigenous researchers with various Western paradigms, academic traditions and methodologies.
Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-1 and 2010 SEM-2

EDB041 INDIGENOUS AUSTRALIA: COUNTRY, KIN AND CULTURE
This unit aims to expand understanding of issues of importance to Indigenous people and to relate those issues to the practices in human service agencies. The Oodgeroo staff and leaders from the Indigenous community will work with staff from Social Work and Human Services in...

JSB176 CRIMINAL LAW IN CONTEXT

Justice students work, or hope to work, as justice professionals in areas related to the Criminal Justice System or Human Rights. They need an understanding of fundamental principles of criminal law and of social justice issues related to criminal law. Laypeople may assume that the law is shaped by rational decisions aimed at reducing crime and punishing wrongdoing, when in fact a closer examination of the policy underpinnings, the substance of the law and the way in which it is applied demonstrates that such an analysis is overly simplistic. A deeper understanding of the forces that shape the law and the way the law's application can distort its policy objectives is essential to those who wish to contribute to more effective laws.

JSB271 POLICY GOVERNANCE AND JUSTICE

This unit will enable you to become familiar with policy-making practices and wider issues of governance. The unit aims to introduce the theory and practice of public policy with an emphasis on policy issues relevant to criminal and social justice. It analyses processes in policy development such as policy formation, writing, implementation and evaluation. You will gain tools for participating in policy development processes in both the public and community sectors.

JSB272 THEORIES OF CRIME

The main aim of this unit is to introduce the student to the study of theoretical criminology. This unit will address the social context of crime but is not exclusively sociological. The study of criminology is essentially multi-disciplinary and this is reflected in the diversity of theoretical approaches. Theory is typically offered as distinct from methods of research, however, together they provide the foundation for policy and practice. The unit provides an analytical framework in order to critically assess the epistemological claims and justifications found in criminological theory. Criminological theories are viewed embedded governmental practices aimed at ensuring the regulation and control of particular 'problem populations'.

JSB274 POLICING IN CONTEXT

This unit studies the diverse roles, duties, powers and problems of policing in Australia with the primary focus on sworn police officers and also the approaches of policing in Australia across three key sections. The first section called 'Principles of Policing', comprises of four modules that cover the principle knowledge needed for understanding the policing history, context and structure in Australia. The second section is 'Specialisation' which focusses in closer detail the actual skills, tasks and operations that police are expected to engage in as part of their core skill requirements. In the final section, "Issues", the module reflects on contemporary issues that are enhancing the task of police work and may potentially change its areas of specialisation.

JSB371 INDIGENOUS JUSTICE

In the context of increasing public and institutional concern for the recognition of the political, social, cultural and legal rights of Indigenous peoples, it is essential that those who work in the justice system have an understanding of contemporary Indigenous justice issues. All justice professionals require a sound grasp of the unique aspects of Indigenous culture and society which impact upon the interaction of Indigenous people with the justice system. The operation of both the criminal and civil justice systems in Australia has, at times, been characterised by inequity, intolerance and ignorance in the development and implementation of policies directed towards Indigenous people. This unit explores the major areas of interaction between Indigenous Australians and the justice and legal systems and seeks to raise awareness of those factors which inhibit the formulation of sound policy and practice.

JSB372 YOUTH JUSTICE

This unit is concerned with the way in which a 'youth crime problem' is constructed and the implications of this for particular cohorts of young people in contemporary Australia. It is also concerned with the administration and management of youth crime through formal systems designed to prevent and reduce unlawful acts. Particular attention is drawn to the historical development of youth justice in Australia and to the changing nature of youth crime control across jurisdictions. Contemporary articulations of youth crime control are examined in relation to Queensland’s system of youth justice, particularly as this relates to young Indigenous people, young women and those from various social classes and ethnic groups. Theoretically, the unit takes as its starting point a genealogical analysis that focuses on questions of knowledge, power, regulation and discipline. These are discussed in relation to the contemporary government of young people in Australia and other ‘western’ countries.

JSB373 CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

This unit sets out to examine punishment and correction in contemporary Western society. What does contemporary corrections look like? In the last decade, across the Western world, there has been a massive growth in prisoner numbers and in the industry of corrections, and a decreasing use of community alternatives to prison. What does the near future hold? More prisons or less? More community corrections or less? Technological developments, increasing privatisation and expanding captive labour forces all have implications for the future of the prison. Technologies of surveillance look set to play a greater role in community corrections, and may lead to a further widening of the net of social control. To what extent will political and economic imperatives, rather than wide open social discourse, dictate the future of our corrections systems? Should our response to crime be based on punishment?

JSB374 CRIME PREVENTION

The aim of this unit is threefold. First, the unit will discuss in detail the complex relationship which exists between the crime problem, the creation of criminality and traditional responses to crime. Second, the unit will discuss crime prevention strategies that are broader than the traditional criminal justice response as well as explore the appropriateness or otherwise of blanket responses to crime. Finally, the unit will consider the issue of how the interests of victims of crime may be adequately addressed both within and outside the criminal justice system.

JSB375 INFORMATION MANAGEMENT AND ANALYSIS

The policing role within society is continually changing, and since the advent of information technology the use of various hardware and software have become a basic requirement of the policing organisations. It is through the inputting and analysis of respective data that a police or law enforcement organisation can monitor the development of crime trends or criminal linkages or associations with the aid of computer technology. The aim of this unit of study is to expose you to the computer software being utilised within the professions. The unit also seeks to provide the student with the ability to process and analyse data utilising the selected software packages and subsequently proposing solutions to problems evidenced from the data analysis.

PUB486 ETHICS AND THE LAW IN HEALTH SERVICE DELIVERY
This unit enables students to develop an awareness of the ethical and legal issues associated with the public sector and health care in the pre-hospital care setting. This unit covers topics relating to the code of ethics, the code of conduct and the legislation unique to the emergency health services. Students are required to apply content knowledge using the problem based learning strategy. Topics include introduction to ethics, morality and ethical theory, bioethics, public sector ethics, overview of the Australian legal system, consent to and refusal of health care, duty of care, confidentiality, and record keeping.
Prerequisites: PUB280  Credit points: 12  Campus: Kelvin Grove and External  Teaching period: 2010 SEM-2

PYB067 HUMAN SEXUALITY
This unit explores historical approaches to studying, explaining and regulating human sexuality with an awareness of the social nature of definitions of 'normal' or 'acceptable' sexual behaviours. Students critically examine definitions of 'healthy' or 'morally acceptable' or 'normal' sexuality. Different models of sexuality are considered with an emphasis on contemporary critiques of the traditional paradigms of sexuality in the West.

SCB110 SCIENCE CONCEPTS AND GLOBAL SYSTEMS
You will undertake interdisciplinary study of the physical, geological and biological concepts relating to the origins of life; from the creation of matter and planets, to the emergence of life in all its complexity, culminating in evolution of earth ecosystems. Human influences, overlaid upon earth's complex systems, will be examined as to their type, extent, and impact. In counterpoint, you will explore the breadth of philosophical developments underlying our search for knowledge; fundamental thoughts and ideas that span the last 2,500 years of human history. Ultimately, these concepts evolved through the development of a scientific method and we explore its workings in relation to the ongoing enterprise of human understanding.

SWB100 INTRODUCTION TO HUMAN SERVICES AND SOCIAL WORK
This unit provides an introduction to human services and social work and locates this within the broader context of the welfare state. It examines both the history, and global and national forces, which shape the current direction of welfare policy and the human service industry. The purpose of human service work and the various roles a human service worker may undertake or utilise are explored. The unit challenges students to reflect on their own understandings of human services and human service work, and provides a foundation for detailed study in later years of the course.

SWB218 SOCIAL CHANGE, POLITICS, POLICY AND ACTIVISM
Social activists, including social workers and human service practitioners, commonly work with and on behalf of disadvantaged persons, vulnerable groups and marginalised communities. While multi-causal, the life circumstances of the disadvantaged, vulnerable and marginalised are heavily influenced by the exercise of political power and policies of government. Accordingly, professional practitioners engaged in social activism need to have a thorough understanding of the structure and processes of government and an appreciation of the 'art' of real world politics - 'realpolitik'- and how this shapes policy change. This unit provides you with an introduction to power, politics and government and serves as a foundation for a range of other units. It explores the relationship between political power and disadvantage and encourages you to consider the political sphere of your profession. [SWB218 is incompatible with HHB218]
