Why choose this course?
Nutritionists use their expertise and skills to promote the overall health and well-being of individuals and communities by promoting health and the prevention of diet related disease.
A nutritionist can therefore work in a wide variety of roles such as in education and training, food advertising, product development, nutrition policy, or in food journalism.

Employment opportunities for nutritionists exist in both the public and private sector.

Professional Recognition
Graduates of this three year full-time program are eligible to apply for membership of the Public Health Association of Australia (PHAA), Sports Medicine Australia (SMA), the Nutrition Society and other bodies, and Associate membership of the Dietitians Association of Australia (DAA).

Electives
Electives include clinical science, counselling, exercise science, health management and health promotion, public health and research.

Limits on grades of 3
A new policy concerning grades of 3 came into effect from 1 January 2009 (QUT MOPP C/5.2). With effect from this date grades of 3 are no longer considered a conceded or low pass but are classified as a fail grade. Any grades of 3 awarded prior to 1 January 2009 retain the conceded pass status and will be counted for graduation purposes up to the maximum number of grades of 3 permitted for your course. Grades of 3 incurred in units that commence after 1 January 2009 will not count towards your degree. Further information is available on the Student Services website
